

THE IMPORTANCE OF FOSTERING RELIGIOUS LITERACY IN MULTICULTURAL SOCIETIES:

The Case of Muslims in the U.S.

A presentation and conversation with Ali Asani
Moderated by Brendan Randall, J.D. Ed.D. Candidate

Ali Asani, born in Nairobi, Kenya, is a Professor of Indo-Muslim and Islamic Religion and Cultures and Director of the Prince Alwaleed bin Talal Islamic Studies Program. He has also served on the American Academy of Religion's Task Force on the teaching of religion in schools and has been a consultant for the National Endowment for the Humanities Bridging Cultures Muslim Journeys Bookshelf Project.

THURSDAY OCTOBER 2 | 4:00 P.M. | LARSEN 203

office of student affairs